

TOP 3 WAYS CLEAN HARBORS CAN HELP WITH CORONAVIRUS

BUSINESSES ACROSS NORTH AMERICA ARE FRANTICALLY TRYING TO FIGURE OUT THE CORONAVIRUS AND WHAT IT MEANS TO THEM, THEIR EMPLOYEES AND THEIR FINANCIAL OUTLOOK.

For 40 years, Clean Harbors has specialized in emergency response and decontamination – playing a significant role in the historic anthrax, bird flu, 9/11 and gulf oil cleanups. We take great pride in being a company with the expertise and experience to help a business like yours through challenging times.

THREE WAYS CLEAN HARBORS CAN HELP:

1 PREPAREDNESS

Having the right plan in place in case of emergency can be the difference between success and disaster. We offer an Infectious Materials Response Agreement (IMRA) to our customers. This program provides the following:

SYSTEM SET-UP FOR YOUR BUSINESS – In the event of an emergency we have everything we need on file to react quickly and precisely onsite.

PRIORITIZATION – In the event of an emergency, our IMRA partners take precedence in scheduling and allocation of resources.

Having an agreement like this in place gives our partners and their stakeholders the needed confidence that their employees and your business are in the best position possible.

2 BUSINESS CONTINUITY

We offer more than emergency response. With over 15,000 highly trained employees and a North American footprint, we are able to perform routine or intermittent facility cleanings to help prevent an incident. Prevention is the key to staying viable during these times. Don't just rely on routine janitorial service. It is critical to trust this proactive process to the experts with experience in infectious disease and hazardous waste.

3 RESPONSE

If your business does face an emergency, time, resources and expertise are critical to limiting the damage, keeping everyone as safe as possible, and returning your business to normal. This is not only what we do, it's who we are. We have the people, assets, expertise and technology to quickly and safely get you and your business back to work.

With the right focus on preparedness and business continuity coupled with a world-class partner like Clean Harbors, your employees, family and stakeholders will all have the confidence and security they deserve.

Call today to set up your agreement and take the first step toward peace of mind.
